

NEW ECONOMY,
MIGRATION,
SOCIAL CHANGE &
FAMILY STRUCTURE

XVI IASJF ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM
COLLEGE OF LAW. U.B.A/ JUNE 11TH 2025

ML | Marcelo
Loprete

OVERVIEW

1. INTRODUCTION
2. THE SO-CALLED "NEW ECONOMY "
3. REMOTE WORK HIGHLIGHTS
4. SOCIETAL IMPACTS
5. MIGRATION & CULTURAL DYNAMICS
6. EFFECTS OF MIGRATION
7. SHIFT IN FAMILY NORMS
8. CHALLENGES & REFLECTIONS
9. ONGOING CHALLENGES
10. GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR THE FUTURE

INTRODUCCIÓN

In the 21st century, major societal shifts—like remote work and increased migration—are reshaping how we live, work, and structure families. These changes challenge existing cultural norms and legal systems, especially in the West. As these transformations evolve, legal and social frameworks must adapt to support new family realities.

THE SO-CALLED "NEW ECONOMY"

New Technologies

Work
Methods

Human Needs

REMOTE WORK HIGHLIGHTS

- Global Talent Access
- Employee Flexibility
- Leadership Shifts
- Cost & Productivity Effects
- Cultural Transformation

SOCIETAL IMPACT

- Urban Changes
- Environmental Benefit
- Mental Health Concerns
- Digital Divide
- New Skills Demand

MIGRATION & CULTURAL DYNAMICS

Migration—voluntary or forced—is increasingly common. Migrants bring new cultures, beliefs, and practices to their host societies, reshaping local norms and contributing to 'transculturation' and 'inculturation'.

EFFECTS OF MIGRATION

- Cultural Enrichment
- Labour Market Changes
- Civic Tensions
- Social Integration

SHIFT FROM FAMILY NORMS

- Work-from-Home Impacts
- Redefined Roles
- Cultural Influence

CHALLENGES & REFLECTIONS

Despite transformation, family remains the foundation of society and retains state protection under global human rights declarations.

ONGOING CHALLENGES

- Balancing tradition with inclusiveness
- Adapting legislation to reflect real family lives
- Ensuring equality while maintaining cultural identity
- Addressing mental health, digital divides, and social cohesion in the new economy

GUIDING PRINCIPLES FOR THE FUTURE

- Accept new social realities
- Adapt legal and social frameworks
- Remain rooted in core Western values
- Be open yet critical and thoughtful in shaping policy

THANK YOU

ML | Marcelo
Loprete